

Exercise 4:

Write five sentences comparing two of your relatives. Use “while” and “whereas.”

1. While my mother cooks very delicious, my father doesn't cook at all.
2. Whereas my cousin is making the salad, my uncle is cutting onions.
3. I am going at work while the time is running out.
4. While the teacher shows the exercise, the class is listening very carefully.
5. While my brother prefers dog, I love cats.

Exercise 5:

Complete the sentences with something surprising or unexpected.

1. Although Han Jin weighs only 82 pounds (37 kg), he can lift so much in the gym.
2. Though it was over 100 degrees Fahrenheit (38°C), it's just a normal Wednesday in SLRC.
3. Even though Ms. Hanbury is a very strict professor, he always pays attention of his students.
4. Despite the fact that Omar never studied music, he plays like an angel.
5. In spite of the fact that Marta did not read the book, she knows all the story because she saw a video.
6. Even though Inge does not come from Russia, speaks Russian in such a native accent.
7. Despite the fact that Manchester United is a much better team, The Poderosisimas Chivas del Guadalajara won 6 to 0.
8. I'm walking right now to Sonoyta in spite of the fact that it is 200 miles (322 km) away.
9. The music of Royal Deluxe is so good despite the fact that it is relatively unknown.
10. Michael did get his job done at the company even though he was not the best worker in the company.