V-Hi good morning welcome to the Zoo of Mexicali.

T-Hello! I was reading about the Gorillas, but I can't find them. Can you help me?

V-I'm so sorry but unfortunately the Gorillas at this hour they go to eat, you would have to wait until 12:00 pm, at which time they come back.

T- It's fine, I don't have any problem. I'm a totally fan of the big cats too.

V-Oh, very nice, in that case you can now go to visit the tigers, at this time they are usually playing in their area.

T- My son told me that the tigers are very aggressive, is that real?

V-The ones that we have not so much, they were raised right here, and we treat them taking care of all their necessities.

T- So could I come over without a problem? I would love taking some photos.

V-Yes they are very safe for all our visitors coming, In fact there is a special area where you can pet the baby tigers that we have in the Zoo.

T-Please, tell me where the babies are, I want to give them a big hug until I get tired.

V-Of course, here is a map where you can see all the areas available in the Zoo. Having fun is so important to us.

T- Thank you, I love visiting all the animals of this amazing Zoo.

V-We at the Zoo of Mexicali know that, that's why we have exciting news next month, don't tell anyone but here between you and me, we are having the visit next month of a complete family of wolves brought directly from the Zoo of Juarez.

T-Wolves!? Oh my God, it is amazing news. I am good at keeping secrets.

V-I hope so, my boss told me that I would get fired if I told anyone, but I don't remember the last time a family was so excited of visiting the Zoo.

T- Don't worry, I will keep your secret safe. No one will know until the Zoo gives the announcement. I will invite my entire family.

V-That's very good to hear, the current management would be very happy too. The Zoo has been very lonely lately.

T- Really? I can't believe it. I will try to talk to my friends to invite them to come, the place is worth admiring for more people.

V-Thank you so much, unfortunately my shift is over. Have a great day! Bye!

T- Bye!
